

the Princes were already removal from their frames, anil thorn* of Napoleon and Maria Louisa had replaced lin-m.

[On the lUth of March cries were heard of " Vive le Hoi!" in the square of Louis XV. On the morning of the 2f»th they were, supplanted by shouts of '* Vive PEiiiiperetij-! "1

The next morning I determined to Hee, Napoleon, hut when our ear-riage arrived at the Pont iioyal thousand* were eollcfUul there. Our servant advised us to descend and proem! on foot. The crowd civilly made way: they were wailing to see tb«; review. An unusual hileuee prevailed, interrupted only by tlu» cries of the children, whom the parents wen-thumping with energy for crying " Vive k Uoi!" instead of <sup>4%</sup> Vive TKnt-pereur!" which some months b«'fort» tluty had Imm tliiiiiprd for daring to vociferate! A fritmti rwotumciulcil UH lo prtKVid lo flu* n»vlt»w, to set' which lift hat! the good nature lo p»o<rur« mi? adiiuttjincf u> a Mtnal) apart* ment in the Tuilcrics, an<! from tin* window I naw aiitd h«*anl for tin? lirnt time the scourge of the ('onttni*nt —• his martial, iM'tivt* tigiuv, mounit«d on his fanunl white honu*. 1l« haraiiiiunl, with «*ji«r^«*fl«* t«»n«» (and in those bombastic expressions we havi* always rt'iiarkrd In all his inaniffH-toes, and which an* so w«*il adapiwl to tli*» Kr**in*h), the IMMjH i>f (hi* diviM-ions of Lefol and Dufour* *rii**tt<sup>k</sup> wiw much rtnhracin^ «>f /***» nnei^nn Atflfw ot th« Old (tuard, much im*nti<m «f <sup>f</sup>*ri<sup>d</sup>ai <!»>"« am! wMtv«*nir,H dear to his h«»arl,<sup>M</sup> of the **««*ar» of hiH l»rav«» stol«ii«*rH,*» which, h» wrvc his views, ho will re-ojM»n \withoitl ri*iitt*r«. Th** j««j»uJmM* were frntiqtiU, as I had remarked them on the, bridge. In*t|»irifi'il l»y niv Mill tm».ifiMfie<) curiosity 1 rejoined my rscorl ami pr<»c«'««.lin| f« t|jt> Harden*, ivm*re not more than thirty |M*rsonH wi*n* co!! i>i't4><l muliT the lilrtdwix Thfrt* %viw no enthusiamic cry, &t least mine timm*! Hiilllrlnf to liitlttr** him to show hittisolf. In despair at not being able in «*ont«*iif>lat«* hN |»hy«iiun(>my at greater advantage i made my cavatii*r n*«|UiHt H«»III* JMTHIUIS In the t)iron# to cry ** Vive rKinj^rwur!<sup>1*</sup> SCMIH iatiiliwl ainf r^plii**!, ** AtteituVx. uti pen," while others ativlftad u» to denir** M>m«*«>f tti«* rhil«lri»n t« do wi, A few francs thrown to th« latter iKM>II stiiniilitfeil ih**Ir V4>le««« Into crit*^ i>f the loyalty of the day, and Napoleon pnwntwi liinwi*If m ih«* window, but he retired often and r«»tp|n»ar«*l, A ft*w j»»n«iim arrival froim /lw country and lidil up jM»titiotw» wliicht In* »i*rit 111 mV|*» *r ctifuji to ri««*i>lvi». HiB square face and figure ntnck ni« with involtnUry **tiiriiliii, I was dazzled, as if beholding a Nispf*nnat!intl l>l«g, Tli^ri* n sii»riun*«« spread over bin expantive brow, n gliHiwi on iltt« iltli »f It in itnrki<m><I i*yi», which rendertni futile his fttt<»i>pi» in «itiil*. Hiiti«iliiin Snnttic «j«>ri**4l round his mouth, indicating the ambition* spirit of llii*»tiii within!

Much agitation seemed lo reign lit ili« wilnw, Th« ntnUterft «id generals paced up and down with their nm*M*r in n»t*|ir^wml Agltatlin and debate. The Palace hai now the af*pi>«mfte4» of a fnrriia, l.lit* wtnmt of a despot, not the abode of a nowreign wnfkUitg lit /lw loyalty of hii people, and recalled by their ttttanitmm* vol<**, ititit. fi>«*Iti|C fiat lw» N only welcomed back by military |K*wi*r, wlioiw |ialli w«i ««t>tht<l by tlin